

PILGRIMS LOST TO YANKS

In Final Game Between Two Clubs

GENERAL HUMIDITY ACTIVE

Giants Lose to Boston in National League Game—Harvard Loses to Yale at Largely Attended Game.

New York won the last game of the series with the Boston Americans yesterday by the close score of 3 to 2. The boiling hot sun made it uncomfortable for both players and spectators. Pruitt did the slab work for Boston and Hogg for New York. The Pilgrims got one run in the sixth and made a hard try to tie in the ninth but failed to get more than one tally. The Yankees scored two in the third and one in the seventh.

The New York Nationals were given a whitewash on their own grounds in the game yesterday with the Boston, the score being 5 to 0. Lindaman was put into the box against McGinnity of the Giants.

GAME CALLED OFF.

Rained Early But Diamond in Shape to Play at Three.

Burlington, June 26.—The heavy showers early yesterday afternoon caused the cancelling of the Burlington vs. Montpelier-Barre game at Athletic park. It was called off at two o'clock and the teams did not go to the park at all. At three the diamond was in shape to play and the sun shone most of the afternoon. About 20 spectators waited an hour and more for the teams to show up, no announcement being made at the grounds that the game was called off.

YALE TRIMS HARVARD.

Runs Up Score of 14 Runs to 6 for the Crimson.

New Haven, June 26.—Yale trimmed Harvard on Yale Field yesterday, 14 to 6, before a crowd that taxed the capacity of the grounds and estimated at 15,000. This was the second game between the Blue and Crimson ball since this year, Harvard having won the first. Harvard started off by scoring a run, Yale came back with two tallies, which it increased by seven in the second inning. Hartford was in the box for Harvard the first inning and part of the second, but was replaced by Brennan.

The cheers of the Yale men were enough to disconcert the oldest professional in the base ball business, but Harvard was game to the end and pounded out four runs in the ninth.

THE DANGER OF THE FOURTH

Secretary of State Board of Health Issues Warning.

Secretary Henry D. Holt of the state board of health, issues for the board, a warning as to the dangers of a two vigorous celebration of the national holiday.

"We are approaching Independence day, when the small boy as well as many of larger growth and some of mature years endeavor to measure their patriotism by the noise arising from the discharge of various explosives. Ignorance of the great danger that may result from carelessness in handling them leads not only to maiming some, but also to death in many instances. We would warn the people of the state of this impending danger, as we have done in the past. If possible persuade the boy, and the youth, to use his funds to visit some place of historic interest, the memory of which will be an inspiration to better and higher achievements.

"If in any way, a wound is produced do not pass it by as trivial and of little importance, because it is apparently slight. Call your physician in order that it may be properly dressed in the most approved antiseptic method. At the same time remember that, in spite of the most careful and thorough dressing, under the best antiseptic precautions, tetanus (lock-jaw) may develop in from five to ten days; hence, do not fail to use from five to ten cubic centimeters of tetanus antitoxin. Its use for a considerable period has proved that it is harmless and that its power to prevent this terrible disease is a well-founded fact.

"The effect upon the sick, the weak, nervous, invalid and the timid of the din resulting from these explosives the ringing of bells and the various other noises which attend the ordinary celebration of the 'Fourth' are often of a serious character, adding much suffering and prolonging many weeks of confinement to a sick bed, as well as occasionally so exhausting the nervous system, that death results—all this not with intent to disturb these invalids, but because 'we forget.'"

THAW, NEAR COLLAPSE,

TO ASK FOR RAIL.

Everly Visits Husband on the Anniversary of the Tragedy—Refuses to See Doctor.

New York, June 26.—Harry Thaw is desperately ill in his Tomb cell, and grave fears are held that he is on the verge of mental collapse.

It has been common report about the Tombs for a week that Thaw is in a bad way. Efforts to induce him to see a physician have failed. He told Dan O'Reilly yesterday that he would not have a doctor, and that if he died his blood would be on the district attorney.

Thaw's dependency was evinced when he learned that Assistant District Attorney Garvan, without whose aid Thaw cannot be tried, was to go to Europe on a three months' vacation.

Application doubtless will be made to a supreme court justice for bail for Thaw on the ground that his life will be endangered if he remains in the Tombs.

AERONAUT IN DEATH

PERIL AS AIRSHIP FALLS.

Beachey's Machine Collapses; He Narrowly Escapes a Watery Grave.

New York, June 26.—After sailing over New York in his cigar-shaped airship gazed at by thousands of people, Lincoln Beachey, the aeronaut, came to grief in the East river yesterday with his airship. But for the prompt work of the Randall's island life-saving crew both he and his ship would have been lost.

The collapse of the big airship and its fall into the East river was witnessed by thousands who had followed its flight over the city. It was the climax of the most thrilling airship flight ever attempted in this country.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

Russian Government Folds Big Plan of Conspirators and Captures 30 of the Band of Plotter—Further Arrests of Officers at Odessa.

Victoria, B. C., June 26.—A plan to steal $50,000,000 from the Russian government office at Tschita, where the money was kept for enterprises in Siberia, has been discovered and 30 Russians arrested.

They had made a tunnel 120 yards long from a hotel to the safe, and when the plot was ripe it was disclosed, almost all the plotters being captured.

LEFT A FORTUNE,

DROWNED HIMSELF

F. C. Randle, After Learning of $40,000 Inheritance, Plunged to Death.

South Norwalk, Conn., June 26.—After learning that his father had left him $40,000, Frank C. Randle deliberately drowned himself.

His father, Joseph C. Randle, died a week ago. For years he was postmaster at Winnipauk. For more than half a century he kept the country store in which the postoffice is. The old postmaster led a worthy, frugal life.

When Frank Randle for the first time consulted his father's administrators, Henry P. Price and Seymour Curtis, they amazed him when they told him his half of the estate would be $40,000. From then he went directly to the little store where his father had worked and saved for over 30 years. There he sat silent for an hour, his face buried in his hands. Then jumping to his feet, he exclaimed:

"I am going—for a drive."

Randle drove to the Norwalk millpond, where he removed his clothes and plunged in where the water is 30 feet deep.

About Baby

Mother Should Ask Their Physician What Food to Use.

When it is necessary to wean the baby, the physician should always be consulted as to what food to use. The physician most certainly will advise against the use of condensed milk, or cow's milk alone, although he will quite likely advise the use of what is called modified milk.

The chances are that he will prescribe Justfood, which, when prepared according to the simple directions accompanying the package, modifies cow's milk in exactly the way that would be recommended by leading physicians.

Justfood is so delicate and so easily absorbed that the baby always keeps it down, making it unnecessary to use lime water or medicine.

It is, too, a most economical food, costing prepared for use, less than one cent a meal for little babies. Sold by druggists, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Ask your physician his opinion of Justfood, for quite likely he has used it for years.

We should be glad to send a liberal sample of the food to any mother or physician. Justfood Co., 60 No. Franklin street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Taft Visits Roosevelt to TALK OF WAR DEPARTMENT.

Cuban and Philippine Matters Discussed at Sagamore Hill.

Oyster Bay, June 26.—Secretary of War William H. Taft paid his first visit, this summer, to President Roosevelt's home at Sagamore Hill yesterday. This is the first opportunity since Mr. Taft's extended western trip.

"I just ran down to make a bet with the President that Yale will win from Harvard," said the secretary as he stepped from the train. "Seriously," he added, "I have a number of War Department matters to go over with the President—Cuban, Philippine and others—all of which are at present in that state where a definite announcement cannot be made concerning them."

The secretary was taken in a touring car to Sagamore Hill where he had lunch with the President. Later he left for New Haven to take part in the commencement exercises of Yale university.

LOVING'S STORY HEARD IN COURT

How He Was Told of Estes's Treatment of Daughter

"DRUNK; KEEP IT QUIET"

Remark That Estes Is Said to Have Made to a Physician Whom He Called to Attend the Young Woman.

Houston, Va., June 26.—Judge Loving, charged with the murder of Theodore Estes, fiance of Miss Elizabeth Loving, the only daughter of the accused was called on the stand yesterday and testified to the interview with his brother-in-law that led to the shooting. He said:

"Harry Snead, my brother-in-law, came into my office, and after some hesitation he said he had a very serious matter to tell me about my daughter. He said that after reaching Livingston he took a young lady driving, and when returning met Margaret on driving with Theodore Estes. He said he then returned and waited for Margaret till after dark, but she did not come."

He received word from Mrs. Kidd that Estes had brought Margaret there in a very bad condition. Harry said he then went to Mrs. Kidd's and was shown to Margaret's room, finding her on the bed rolling about in an unconscious condition, her eyes half open. She did not recognize him and could not talk with intelligence."

Then the judge told of how Snead had got a doctor, and the physician's treatment of her. It was brought out that Estes had gone after Dr. Strober and had said to him:

"She is just drunk, treat her for that and say nothing about it."

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Modish Skirts of Bronze and Patent Leather—Kimono Tendencies.

A complete departure from previous styles of colonial ties are those of bronze or patent leather with a strap buckling across the base of the tongue. They are to be worn with pale colored summer gowns and will take the place of the white canvas and colored suede shoes that have become too common. Tan leather will be more worn than for years—in fact, shoes of this shade are a whim of the season. Bronze or black stockings, clothed in groups between conventional stripes, are the latest designs in hosiery.

Paris has introduced a dainty summer slipper with a jeweled heel. The jewels are very tiny, almost inconspicuous, but very attractive in outline. Another French fancy for dressy occasions is the graceful colored slipper edged around the top with tiny flowers exacting matching slippers and the gown.

Kimono tendencies are observable all through the scheme of dress. There

PROPER BREATHING.

More Essential Than a Beautiful Voice For Perfect Singing.

I cannot too forcibly insist that the mere possession of a lovely voice is only the basis of vocal art. Nature occasionally starts one by the prodigality of her gifts, but no student has any right to expect to sing by inspiration any more than an athlete may expect to win a race because he is naturally fleet of foot.

Methods of breathing, "attack" and the use of registers must all be perfectly understood by the successful singer, who should likewise be complete master of all details relating to the structure and use of those parts above the voice box and be convinced of the necessity of a perfectly controlled chest expansion in the production of tone.

For perfect singing, correct breathing, strange as it may sound, is even more essential than a beautiful voice. No matter how exquisite the vocal organ may be, its beauty cannot be adequately demonstrated without proper

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

IN A SUBMARINE.

What Happens as the Vessel Takes the Plunge Beneath the Sea.

Under ordinary conditions as soon as the hood is closed for the plunge the captain opens the faucets and a quantity of water, which makes the ship heavy enough to sink, rushes into the reservoirs located at the sides of the vessel. Even the most hardened of the sailors say that the noise of the water rushing into the boat gives a lugubrious impression, and it requires men gifted with cool heads and possessing tested courage for the hazards involved in operating these little boats. But, in spite of their fragile appearance, they are terrible instruments of war, and notwithstanding their diminutive size they are controlled by twelve men, each of whom is indispensable to their navigation.

The hood once closed, the submarine is absolutely cut off from the world. Its shell, calculated to support a pressure of seven or eight atmospheres, gives it the ability in theory to go down to a distance of thirty to forty meters, but in practice it is considered sufficient to drop to a depth of fifteen meters, and at such a level it is in no danger of being flooded. The most strongly armored vessels of the ordinary type extend downward only ten meters.

The vessel is directed by two vertical governors, one above and one below the stern, as they are always placed on submarines. To govern the coming up and going down of a boat there are two horizontal governors, one at the stern and one at the bow.—Metropolitan Magazine.

THE EARLY BIRD.

Bishop Brewster of Connecticut is noted for his funny stories, and his latest is said to be about an old reprobate who decided to repent and announced to every one that whatever wrong he had done should be made right, so a man whom he had chided out of a large sum of money was around at midnight to demand:

"But what did you come at this hour for and wake me up? Why not wait till tomorrow?" said the old sinner crossly.

"I came now," replied the man, "to avoid the rush."—Harper's Weekly.

A Dog's Academy.

There is an academy for canines in a certain South London borough which is known to all the prominent circus people of Europe, and which is the "old school" of many of
